

Episode 6 - The Little Girl Who Cried Wolf

La Flor Tribe ("Younger Tribe") - Night 13

The La Flor tribe returns to camp after their second Tribal Council, where Chase was voted out. NaOnka comes back fuming that she wanted to punch Chase in the mouth. "At Tribal tonight, Chase called out my entire alliance in front of Fabio and Kelly B.," NaOnka expresses. "I was so furious I almost said 'Screw our plans' and wrote Chase's name down instead of Alina." In the midst of the tension, Sash compliments his alliance for sticking with the plan and ensuring that Chase was voted out. "Well, he just pushed the self-destruct button with his mouth," NaOnka comments. "We need to get Alina out next," NaOnka then insists. "This next challenge that we have, I would almost want to throw it because Alina is so far on the outs, she's...in Costa Rica," NaOnka then reveals. "I don't wanna risk bringin' her into the merge." Isolated from her tribe, Alina reflects on the evening's events at Tribal Council. "It was really hard saying goodbye to Chase, especially knowing that I had a hidden Immunity Idol," an emotional Alina expresses. "I mean, at the last second, I could have given it to Chase, but...Crystal gave her idol away last year and it was a huge mistake, and...if I would have given it to Chase, it turns out I would have been voted off, so...I definitely did the right thing."

Redemption Island - Night 13

Over on Redemption Island, Chase arrives and finds Benry in the shelter. "Oh, no way, man!" Benry reacts to seeing him. "Another victim of NaOnka and Sash," Chase says. "That sucks!" Benry exclaims. "I definitely got a sick feeling in the pit of my stomach seeing Chase out here at Redemption," Benry tells the camera. "It should be Sash and it should be NaOnka. You know, they have no business still being in the game." "I called everything out at Tribal," Chase then informs him. "I was like 'the main alliance is NaOnka, Sash, Brenda, and Shannon,'" he recounts the events of Tribal Council. "Good job, bro," Benry commends him. Chase then says that they got Kelly B. and Fabio with them and that he lost respect for Shannon. "They're pawns," Benry declares. "Exactly," Chase agrees. "I mean, I hate that you got voted out, but...I'm glad to be spending this time with you compared to some of the other people that are still in this game," Benry continues the conversation. "I feel the same way," Chase responds. "The only thing that sucks about this is we're gonna have to compete [against each other]," Benry says after a brief silence. "I know..." Chase then replies. "You know, I'm here to stay alive; I'm here to win the duel," Benry states in his confessional, "but this one's a little different. Me and Chase both want the same thing, and...if either one of us comes back, uh, Sash and NaOnka better sleep with one eye open."

Espada Tribe ("Older Tribe") - Day 14

On the morning of Day 14, Wendy is up very early and talks to the chickens while tending to them. "Today is Day 14, and I would have to say I definitely spend a lot of time with the chickens," Wendy narrates. "Um, I live on a farm in Montana, and my whole life I've always loved animals, so...if I had my choice between people and animals, I'm not so sure if I would choose people," she smiles. Wendy then discovers an egg in the chicken coop. In a separate confessional, Wendy then explains that there's definitely a way to connect with chickens and make them feel comfortable so that they'll lay eggs. Back at camp, it is clear to everyone that Wendy is the most distant member of the tribe. "I don't get why Wendy's talking to the chickens and not to us," Marty claims. Jimmy T. echoes his sentiments: "The more time she spends with the chickens, it's becoming more and more obvious that Wendy doesn't have very many friends," Jimmy T. observes. "I mean, I can't say a bad word about her, but...she's not playing the alliance game, in my opinion." Much to the tribe's excitement, Wendy returns to camp with an egg. "I have an egg!" she ecstatically says. "Well, you're doin' somethin' right," Jimmy T. tells her. Wendy hopes that her connection with the chickens will make her more valuable to the tribe: "Jimmy T. did say I was doing a good job with the chickens, so...maybe if I continue to make sure the chickens lay eggs and keep them all fed, they might keep me around."

Survivor: Nicaragua Fanfic

Redemption Island - Day 14

At Redemption Island, Chase spends some alone time on the beach, singing, thinking about his recently-deceased father and getting mentally prepared for the upcoming duel: "I started writing songs probably about a month-and-a-half after my dad died," Chase tells the camera. "I'm kinda wishin' that I had a pen and paper right now, so I could write some of these lyrics down," he continues. "I've got a lot of things goin' on in my head this morning. Obviously I have to face Benry today, but...havin' that little moment on the beach and getting to talk to my dad, uh, I knew that whether I win this duel or not, it's gonna be okay."

Redemption Island Arena - Day 14

Host Jeff Probst welcomes challengers, Benry and Chase and guests, Alina, Sash, Tyrone, and Jill to the Redemption Island arena. Each castaway will have to build a house of cards eight feet high. Both Chase and Benry work diligently on their house of cards, not wanting them to collapse. As both towers get higher, Chase accidentally causes a few rows of his house to fall. Just as Benry reaches the eight feet height, Chase's entire house of cards crumbles down. With this, Benry wins his third consecutive duel. Just like he did at Tribal Council, Chase then speaks his mind before leaving the game: To Espada, he says, "I'm letting y'all know that guy right there's the ring leader," Chase points to Sash. "He's got a whole alliance of six and they're comin' after you guys so you need to get him out. Align with Alina," Chase urges them. "I have no one," Alina then adds, trying to appeal to Tyrone and Jill. "All I gotta say to Sash is, your game's gonna come crumbling down just like my [house of] cards," Chase then continues. Sash simply gives a slight nod of his head. Jeff asks Benry if the victory is bittersweet. "Very bittersweet. You know, that's my boy right there and as much as I'm happy to stay, it hurts to see him go, for sure," Benry answers. Benry and Chase shake hands and then share one final "bro" hug. "I don't have any hard feelings that I got beat in the duel today," Chase says in his final confessional. "I'm rooting for Benry to go all the way and...if anyone can do it it's that kid right there." Chase then places his La Flor buff into the fire as he exits the game. Alina is teary-eyed, while Sash still displays a tentative look of satisfaction: "So Benry, the god of Redemption Island, stays alive again," Sash laments. "You know, Chase definitely exposed a lot of secrets, uh, of the La Flor tribe, but...one of Benry's strongest allies is out of the game and the other is soon to follow, so...I still feel very secure in this tribe."

Survivor: Nicaragua Fanfic

Espada Tribe ("Older Tribe") - Day 14

As Tyrone and Jill return to camp from the duel, Espada is anxious to hear about what happened. Jill reports that they gained a lot of valuable information. "Redemption Island is making people go crazy," Tyrone tells the camera. "First Dan and now Chase, but...Chase's outburst when he left, uh, it could actually help us." "I say once we do merge, we pull in Alina," Tyrone tells his tribe. "That could upset the whole balance right there because, otherwise, they're six strong." "I love that there's dissention in the other tribe," Marty says with delight. "You know, if we go into a merge down in numbers, we could potentially pull somebody like Alina over to our side...as long as she survives these next couple votes..."

La Flor Tribe ("Younger Tribe") - Day 14

Back at La Flor, Sash also reports what happened at the duel, including Chase's and Alina's comments. "Why would you say that when Sash is right there?" Brenda asks. "Because I knew that none of you were gonna sway, and I had to try something to save my ass," Alina responds. "That was my last-ditch attempt." NaOnka tells her that it's going to get her "sent outta here" and Alina says that she was going home anyway. "I had nothing to lose by trying," she tells her tribe. "It was definitely stupid of Alina to tell Espada that she has no one over here and that she would go with them at the merge," Brenda tells the camera. "By going to them and telling them everything, Alina sealed her own fate, and Chase helped her seal her own fate, again." Later on, NaOnka brings up her plan to ensure Alina leaves: "I think we should throw this next challenge to get Alina out," NaOnka suggests. Sash agrees that they should think about it. Back at camp, Alina tells the camera her true intentions: "You know, the truth is I needed to make them mad to make sure that they all vote for me," Alina explains her actions, "so...hopefully my plans work out, and I'll still be here after this our next Tribal Council."

Reward/Immunity Challenge - Kitty Litter

Host Jeff Probst surprises the castaways by revealing that they are playing for individual Immunity not tribal Immunity today. Both tribes are going to Tribal Council and will vote somebody out of the game. Therefore, one person from each tribe will win Immunity. The members of each tribe will race out to an individual digging area. Each person will use a paddle to dig up a rope ring, toss it over his/her shoulder to a basket on his/her backside. The first person to get all three rings wins immunity and moves on to the final round where they will compete for tribal reward. In the final round, the winner from each tribe will square off in a ring toss. The first person to land all three of their rings on the target wins a feast for their tribe. The winning tribe goes to their Tribal Council first and votes somebody out. They will then listen in on the losing tribe's Tribal Council while feasting on chicken and beef kabobs.

Survivor: Nicaragua Fanfic

In the first round, La Flor competes for individual Immunity and Fabio ends up pulling it out. Alina and Shannon were a close second. In the next round, Espada competes for individual Immunity after having observed La Flor do their challenge. Jill and Jane are neck and neck at the finish, but Jill pulls it out at the end and wins Immunity. Fabio and Jill then compete for Reward in the final round. In the end, despite a close battle, Fabio wins Reward for La Flor.

Espada Tribe ("Older Tribe") - Day 15

Back at Espada, as the tribe returns to camp, Jill summarizes the recent developments: "Tonight both tribes are going to Tribal Council. You know, it was kinda frustrating to lose out on winning the feast for my tribe; I think that would have gained me a couple more points with the guys, but...I got Immunity today so...I get to go to at least one Tribal Council without packing my bags." Meanwhile, the alliance of Jane, Marty, Tyrone, and Jimmy T. gets together to discuss their options. "I hated to see her win today," Jane states the obvious. "Daggoneit. I'm startin' to sound like the Little Girl who Cried Wolf," Jane laments. "Before every Tribal Council, I'm always convinced that Jill's goin' and now she won individual Immunity, so...I guess that means Wendy's goin'." Jimmy T. asks if they should tell Wendy that they're voting for her. Marty says that he thinks she knows. "Tonight it's gonna be Wendy Jo," Marty tells the camera. "Um, post-merge, Wendy Jo poses no threat, but...it's still, to a degree, a team game right now; it's about getting to the merge with as strong and as loyal a team as possible, and frankly, with Jill being immune, Wendy Jo's the only one we can sacrifice." Later on, on the beach, Wendy and Jill discuss the vote and Wendy reveals her thoughts: "I think my strategy for Tribal Council is I'm gonna vote for Tyrone because I connect with him the least out of all the tribemates and if I were to somehow stay, he would not have my back at all," Wendy explains. "Except maybe with a knife," she laughs.

La Flor Tribe ("Younger Tribe") - Day 15

When La Flor returns to camp, they quickly celebrate Fabio winning the tribe feast and then get right to the business of figuring out the upcoming vote. "Tonight, both tribes have to go to Tribal Council, and...I'm tired of Sash thinking that he runs the tribe and controlling his little minions," Alina declares. "If everything goes according to plan tonight, I have a feeling you're gonna see an idol played tonight and Sash'll go home." Meanwhile, Alina continues to play up her vulnerability by acting sad and like she knows her time is up. "Alina, she seem like she's givin' up cause she knows, like, she's goin' home," NaOnka tells the camera. "She could kick and scream 'til the cows come home and it wouldn't change anything, you know?" NaOnka, Sash, and Brenda privately discuss the vote: "We can put all six votes on Alina," NaOnka says, "and she'll get the message loud and clear." "Yeah; our six votes are gonna be the same," Brenda agrees. Sash isn't convinced, however. "Hold on a second; you're not the ones with your heads most likely on the chopping block if she pulls an idol," he reminds them. Sash explains the dilemma about splitting the votes: he says because it's just Alina and their alliance of six, if they split votes they have to single out one of the six. "I mean, I am confident but...I don't want to be overconfident to the point of being blindsided by my own confidence." Brenda asks him who they would split the vote with. Sash says "Kelly B." and NaOnka says that's stupid. "If we were to write down Kelly B. and she's safe tonight because I know hands-down Alina doesn't have the idol cause she would have gave it to Chase, then she'll [Kelly B.] go right to Espada," NaOnka explains. "If you feel that strongly, I mean, let's just vote for Alina," Sash agrees. "Well, the thing that's good about this is we're gonna go into the merge unified," Brenda then says. Minutes before leaving for Tribal Council, the La Flor members grab their torches and finalize their votes for Alina. "Tonight, I'm looking forward to the Tribal Council because #1, Alina's goin' home," NaOnka gloats, "and then we're gonna get to feast on chicken and beef, so...let's just get the vote over with and be done with it."

Survivor: Nicaragua Fanfic

Tribal Council #6 - La Flor Tribe ("Younger Tribe")

At La Flor's Tribal Council, Jeff immediately establishes the obvious - that Alina is sitting in the hot seat again. "I'm really sad because there was nothing I could do to change my fate," Alina tells Jeff. "I mean, I guess they feel safer with the numbers, but...this is a game where you have to take risks. You know, the fact of the matter is, after I'm gone it'll be Fabio and Kelly B." "Kelly B., any of this ringing true?" Jeff poses. Kelly B. says that Alina is telling things how they are from her perspective but she doesn't know what they've talked about. Alina jumps in that she's a really good judge of people and that's why she knows what's going on. "Who else, besides Sash, do you think is running the tribe?" Jeff asks Alina. "Definitely Na," Alina reveals. NaOnka raises her eyebrows. "I think Sash is definitely in control of this game; Na is kinda his number two, but...they're definitely all under Sash's spell," Alina continues her speech. "Like, I don't know how he does it. I give him credit, actually. He's playing the game and all these people are just pawns." Once again, Shannon has a clear reaction and Jeff turns to him: "I think she's full of it. The only person I take orders from is my wife," Shannon disagrees. "You know, I didn't come out here to be anybody's bitch, especially not Sash's." "But you are!" Alina tells him. "Says you," Shannon replies. "You're becoming Chase #2 right now," he accuses her. "No, because I'm frustrated!" Alina justifies her actions. She says that she doesn't want to go home and she knows that she is. "I don't understand why everyone's just blindly following Sash," she says. Jeff then finally turns to Sash, asking for his perspective on what's going on in the tribe: Sash says that he thinks he was able to offer his alliance security in exchange for loyalty, and that it's really important to bring a unified group to the merge. Finally, Alina says that she just feels that nobody except her has had to fight. Jeff says that if she goes home, what does she hope to accomplish by calling everything out into the open? "I want to light a fire under people," Alina replies. She then continues that unless Shannon, Kelly B., and Fabio align together, it's gonna be a really boring game and Sash, NaOnka, and Brenda are gonna get to the end, and they're gonna regret it. With this, the La Flor members cast their votes.

Alina shocks her tribe when she plays the hidden Immunity Idol. "You should've known I wasn't gonna go down that easily," Alina declares to her tribe. The smug look on Sash's face immediately fades. "Wow," utters a stunned NaOnka when Jeff confirms that Alina did in fact play an idol. The votes against Alina are nullified.

Jeff then tallies the votes and reveals them one at a time to the tribe:

ALINA. Does not count.

ALINA. Does not count.

ALINA. Does not count.

ALINA. Does not count.

ALINA. Does not count.

ALINA. Does not count.

"After six votes, we still have no votes for anybody else," Jeff recaps. "Only one vote left."

"Sixth person voted out of Survivor: Nicaragua..."

SASH.

Due to the alliance's miscalculation, with only one vote against him, Sash is eliminated from the La Flor tribe. He will face off against Benry and the castaway voted out at Espada's Tribal Council on Redemption Island.

Tribal Council #7 - Espada Tribe ("Older Tribe")

As Espada starts their Tribal Council, La Flor begins enjoying their delicious feast in full view and earshot of the jealous Espada. Through questions to Jill and Jimmy T., it is quickly established that Wendy doesn't fit in as well with the tribe. Wendy admits that she hasn't made very strong connections with the tribe and says that for some reason she feels she rubbed Tyrone the wrong way so she feels the "least strong" bond with him. "If you thought we had issues, you know, that's something we could have addressed back at camp and not in front of the La Flor tribe," Tyrone points out. "Oh, it's not issues; I just felt we didn't connect," Wendy tells him. Jeff asks Tyrone if he disagrees with Wendy. "Um, I thought she was a little eccentric," Tyrone admits. "Probably not somebody I would ever connect with under normal circumstances." "So then why the reaction?" Jeff questions him. "I'm just surprised to be singled out by her; that's all," Tyrone explains. Jeff asks Wendy if she's had much conversation with Tyrone. Wendy answers that she tried to talk to Tyrone about strategy back when they went to the first duel but he didn't seem interested at all. "I think we're just very different people," Tyrone says to Jeff. "Like with the chickens, Wendy talks to the chickens; she sings to them. You know, Survivor: Nicaragua Fanfic to me, I see food. She almost sees, I would say, a friend.” Wendy nods her head in agreement: “I just love animals and animals can definitely be friends,” she says. Jeff then reminds Wendy that it’s a social game and asks her if she thinks she neglected her tribemates. “I wouldn’t say I neglected them,” Wendy disagrees. “In fact, one of the things that actually benefited them is I have an ability to help the chickens produce eggs simply by talking to them.” Several castaways from both tribes have a visible reaction to this. Jeff asks Marty if he knows what Wendy is talking about: “You know, it is true that whenever anyone else will check the chicken coop, there’ll never be any eggs, but if Wendy checks in the morning, she always seems to bring an egg back,” Marty reveals. “It’s definitely a little bizarre, but you know, honestly, I don’t think Wendy’s right for the devious part of the game and I think it’s gonna be better for her in the long run if she goes now.” With this, La Flor is sent back to camp, and Espada cast their votes.

Jeff then tallies the votes and reveals them one at a time to the tribe:

WENDY.

TYRONE.

Tyrone is surprised to see his name come up. “One vote Tyrone; one vote Wendy,” Jeff recaps.

WENDY.

WENDY.

“Seventh person voted out of Survivor: Nicaragua...”

WENDY.

In the end, Wendy Jo DeSmidt-Kohlhoff is voted out of the Espada tribe in a unanimous decision. She will face off against Benry and Sash on Redemption Island.

Episode 7 - Wake-up Call

At Espada, conflict occurs when one member disagrees with the rest of the tribe about killing a chicken.

At La Flor, it’s a brand new game with Sash dethroned. Will new alliances form, and will Alina be able to change her fate?

On Redemption Island, Wendy, Sash, and Benry compete in a three-way duel to stay alive in the game. Which castaway will come out on top?

Episode 6A Voting History:

6* Votes Against t	Survivors Voting Against Alina

1* Vote Against t	Survivor Voting Against Sash

Episode 6B Voting History:

5 Votes Against t	Survivors Voting Against Wendy

1 Vote Against t	Survivor Voting Against Tyrone
